

Tickets

- A customer must be able to print tickets or show them at the event

We can create GUI interface that display the tickets in deferent FXML class if the customer did buy one

We can attach email to the customer as attribute and allow java to send direct email in reality
It's possible by using the System. Out library